Thank YOU for you & all you do!

RESPONSE FROM TREE #6409

Thank you for noticing all that I do!

I feel grateful to be located close to the ocean, even though it means my trunk is twisted (hence my Latin name Pinus Contorta) in response to the elements. While I'm sad for the nearby forest communities affected by the fires, I would love a little fire to help open my pine cones and release my seeds. Then, I would have a small beach side community of my own.

I have a joke for you too!

What do you call a tree with lots of friends? Poplar - HA!
